

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

THIS Index contains the titles of all the papers and reports printed in the Transactions of the Devonshire Association for the Advancement of Science, Literature, and Art, from the commencement of the Society to the year 1885 inclusive.

The First Part consists of the titles of the Reports of the Committees, and of the titles of Miscellaneous Memoranda contributed by members. In several cases the heads into which the Reports of the Committees are divided, and the names of places, are mentioned.

The titles of Collections of Memoranda relating to special matters are placed in the sections to which they belong.

The Second Part contains the titles of the papers. These are classed according to their subject matters, and are placed in alphabetical order under the names of their authors, and the references show the years in which they were read, and the volumes and pages where they can be found.

The Third Part contains the names of places mentioned in the titles of papers, followed by the names of authors, and letters pointing out the sections where the titles can be found.

The Fourth Part is a list of authors arranged in alphabetical order in a tabulated form. The asterisks point out the section in the body of the book where the titles can be found; the sub-sections under G. H. and I. are distinguished by figures. The table of contents will act as a key to the sections.

In making the classification it has been needful occasionally to use a little latitude. In some cases therefore, where very few papers have been contributed, they are placed where it was considered to be suitable in preference to increasing the number of sections. In so doing misconceptions may have taken place, and the forgiveness of the authors of such papers is requested. In a work of this description it is impossible but that errors and omissions must exist. The compiler therefore trusts that his "labour of love" will not be viewed with too critical an eye, and he will be greatly obliged by the particulars of any errors being communicated to him at the address at foot, in order that a table of errata may, if needful, be prepared.

To Mr. R. N. Worth many thanks are due for his advice and assistance.
